TODAY'S BEST STORY
How many is a re-union? There is an ancient expression about Brown's cows, which is occasionally used to show how inseparable people are. "They're all together like Brown's cows," some of the old folks say. It seems that this Brown of tradition had one cow.

But speaking of re-unions, it seems that an expression has been created that will supplant the one about Brown's cows' some of the old folks say. It seems that this Brown of tradition had one cow.

But speaking of re-unions, it seems that an expression has been created that will supplant the one about Brown's cows. A re-union of an honored family in Dwight, Monroe county, was held recently and it was thus reported in a newspaper, which is no doubt accurate and trustworthy.

A re-union of the Rumney family was held at the home of John Rumney, Mrs. Martin Finch was the only one living that was present.

So it is suggested that "continuous, like a re-union of the Rumney family," be made a standard American expression.

Women M. P.'s Want to Be Considered as Men

LONDON, May 2.—"Women have now gone on to a footing where they can talk to men quite differently," says Lady Torrington aristocratic woman member of Parliament.

"Women have now shown that they are quite prepared to stand side by side with men, not only from the point of view of being wives, but to work with them in industry and to bring about a feeling throughout the world that they are necessary."

The Duchess of Atholl, also a woman M. P., speaking at the same gathering, remarked that women members of Parliament would not wish men to regard them as peculiar or odd. "We want," she said, "our men colleagues to regard us as very ordinary human beings who wish to work beside them, and we hope that men will forget that we are women, but will think of us as fellow workers."

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Authority to issue $15,000,000, five per cent equipment trust certificates was asked of the Inter-State Commerce Commission in a joint application filed today by the New York Central, Michigan Central, Big Four and the Cincinnati Northern railroads. The proceeds from the sale of these certificates will be used in the purchase of 183 locomotives, 15,250 freight cars and a large amount of other rolling stock.

No matter what brand of baking powder you use, you may have success with your baking today—but what about tomorrow or next week. Uniformity—unfailing success every day in the year—that's the biggest mark of merit a leavener can have—and that's the very thing that has made Calumet Baking Powder the preferred bake-day aid of America.

If you doubt the unusual quality of Calumet, make a test—bake a cake with any baking powder you may select—then use the same recipe and employ Calumet.

This very test has caused millions upon millions of women to turn from a baking powder they had used for years—it has proven to them that the "Best by Test" leavener is the purest that money can buy. For better bakings—day in and day out—use Calumet.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce cans instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

News Notes From Movieland

Dorothy Devore is to be featured in a series of Dorothy Devore pictures. She will start production, and they will be directed by Edw. S. Selwyn.

Way Tearle thinks that actors will have to be more and more from the stage. He contends while stage training may not be vital to the screen actor it is great help and that most of the finest picture celebrities have passed through their training on the stage.

Pauline in the Dark," an F. B. production, will be full of "Two huge ships," of the "longing to the U. S. naval service, as well as some of the men have been borrowed from the government, and Matt (the hero) will be seen coming from the bottom of the to the topmast of a ship on which the heroine is rescued.

It has been suggested that Syd Chaplin (Charles's brother) become so popular in his work in "The Rendezvous," "Her Temporary Husband," "The Galloping Fish," that he has decided to abandon stardom for pictures for a time and hence is producing "The Winner" for fear the laurels won as king of comedians are knocked from his brow. Others are "friendly" enen however, both being in the "respective roles" of John Roy Hulstead for whom Miss Chadwick posed.

Helene Chadwick is the first movie actress to see herself in bronze. At the exhibition of the Painters and Sculptors of Southern California in Los Angeles recently there was a bronze bust of her on exhibition. It was the work of John Roy Hulstead for whom Miss Chadwick posed.

IN THE DAY'S NEWS

Brig. Gen. Charles G. Treat, U. S. A., retired, who has been designated to represent the U. S. Army in the coming Olympic Games in France, closed his active military career last December after a service of more than 40 years. Gen. Treat is a native of Maine. He graduated from West Point in 1882, specialized in artillery, graduated from the Artillery School and the War College, and steadily rose to a position of influence and conceded ability that won him a brigadier general's rank in the regular army in 1916. At that time he was stationed in Hawaii. After the United States had entered into war with Germany he was given command of the new army units at Camp Sheridan, Alabama, and later at San Francisco. Near the close of the conflict, with the rank of major general in the United States National Army, he was detailed for special duty in Italy.

ARREST "DRY" CONSTABLE

YORKVILLE, O., May 2.—The first arrest under Attorney General Crabbe's ruling that a deputy marshal must be a resident of the town in which he is appointed to serve is expected to be made following the arrest here of Calvin Johnson of Tiltonville, a former Smithfield dry-raiding crew that frequently visited this town. When the attorney general ordered all such men who worked for fees only discharged by the state prohibition enforcement ment, Johnson continued working as a deputy marshal of Smithfield. Local officers arrested him because he carried a gun here.

Walter Shank, the murderer's brother, claims that on September 12 he induced his brother to surrender. He was tried and convicted of the murder of Mrs. Tenwalde.

Says Wife Has No Use for One-Legged Sponse

ATLANTA, Ga., May 2.—Charging that his wife had "no use for a one-legged man" and that after he was forced to have his leg amputated, she abused him and compelled him to sleep on a small cot in the kitchen of her brother's home, Dr. Emanuel Zimarakis recently filed suit for divorce in Fulton Superior Court here.

Zimarakis said he had his leg frozen in the course of an arduous Canadian winter, and that he later had to have it amputated. He charged that while he was having it amputated he suffered in silence while his wife abused him and said she had no use for a one-legged man. He said he gave her $4,000 shortly after the operation and that even this failed to appease her, therefore he wanted a divorce.

NewsNotes From Movie Land

Viola Dana, petit star of Metro Pictures, has just finished "Along Came Ruth" and her contract, which latter has extended over a period of nine years. She dep- poses and says that she will now try a period of free lancing; that she wishes to try a larger sphere of acting than heretofore. "I want to show that I am more

"The Heart Bandit," and "Don't Doubt Your Husband." Incidentally it is mentioned by those who profess to know that Viola is a very good business woman and has not squandered her money so is in a position financially to experiment a little. Mrs. Elmer Glyn, after launching her "Three Weeks" on the movie circuit has gone to Los Angeles with her daughter, Lady Williams, to start directing the screening of another of her stories "His Hour." Mrs. Glyn now heads her own unit to be known as the Elmer Glyn Productions, to be produced under the Louis B. Mayer banner.

Gerrude Short is a little comedienne who supports Albert Vaughn, star of the "Telephone Girl," series of comedies for F. B. O. She has been having a series of accidents lately. First a horse stepped on her foot and Gertrude limped about for quite some time. Then, back on the job, her nose came in contact with Kit Guard's elbow and when she next reported for work she had a scaffolding around her conductive organ. And just recently she fell off a ladder and sustained bruises. "And the worst of it is," says Gerrude, "you can't get a sympathetic sigh out of anybody even if you break year neck. Anything that happens to a comedienne is presumed to be a legitimate subject for mirth."

Irene Rich is one of the well known and well liked actresses of the screen of whom one might Irene Rich. say as did the tactful after dinner speaker: "So much has been said and, on the whole, so well said, that I will no longer occupy the time." She usually has queenly roles like the queen of Spain in Mary Pickford's "Rosita" or the Duchess of York in "Beau Brummel," which is her latest release. Pedro de Cordoba, who plays "The Bandolero" in Fox Terri's production, has just met a real bandolero, "The Robin Hood of Cuba." This desperado who was formerly chief of police of Matanzas, and who has to serve a sentence of 105 years, seemed a meek and inoffensive little man who informed Mr. De Cordoba that he has broken out of jail three times and that it is necessary for him to break out again on account of his long term. De Cordoba is getting pointers on the bandit stuff.

Unavoidable delay in the filming of "Monsieur Beaucaire" has made it impossible for Helene Chadwick to take the part of "Lady Mary" and Doris Kenyon has been chosen to take her place.

Sam H. Harris, successful theatrical producer, is going to become a motion picture producer. A threatened strike of the Equity Players has decided him to put some of his successes into pictures. Doug Fairbanks is a friend of Harris' and while in New York he has been a frequent caller at the latter's office, which may mean nothing, and then, again, it might have some bearing on the fact that Harris' first production for the screen will be "Rain," with Jeanne Eagels, his stage star in the title part. Mary Pickford is going to produce other pictures besides her own, so speculation as to a combination of the Pickford-Fairbanks and Harris forces is legitimate. Sounds like a good business proposition, doesn't it?

Two of the younger screen actresses who have made a particularly favorable impression are Clara Bow of "Down to the Sea in Ships" and "Maytime" fame and Lucille Hicken, whose work in "The Rendezvous" is in my opinion, one of the finest bits of acting in recent pictures. Clara has been added to the cast of Sinclair Lewis' novel, "Jacobite," with Raymond McKee, which completes the cast. "Souls That Pass in the Night," a Universal picture has engaged Lucille Clara Philbin as another girl whose work will bear watching.

Booth Tarkington and Thomas Meighan have been in Sing Sing, Tarkington's story, "Whispering Men," in which Thomas Meighan is to star, has many scenes of the prison in it and Thomas and the

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LIVE QUESTION FOR DISCUSSION ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.—The Assyrian Exile of Israel (II Kings 17:1-23 for Sunday, May 1th.

1. What conditions led to Israel's fall? Apply the saying of Jesus about salt to the downfall of Israel.

2. What definite message has Israel for national life today?

3. Name at least four of the great prophets God sent to try to redeem Israel from its false worship? Indicate the special work of each.

4. Name some bad moral bargains we make in our life.

5. What is the warning in this lesson for America? What can we as individuals do to perpetuate our nation?

CLERICUS SAYS. God did not fail to warn Israel. Amos and Hosea definitely told the people that they were living on the edge of a precipice. The wages of sin is death. A nation that sows its seed in tears, will reap a harvest of sorrow. The harvest comes long after seed sowing. God does not pay at the end of every day, but in the end, he pays.

The Arabs have a tradition that a little worm gnawed for years at the leg of Solomon. At last the staff broke, and the king fell. Apply this story to the history of Israel.

The purpose of this movement is indicated by its slogan, "Give More Thought to Music." National Music Week is a radio in which every one is invited to send in a record, station, or note.

The national observance is a culmination of the many worldwide Music Weeks which have already been held in all parts of the country. It is hoped that the public will eventually plan for Music Week as it does now for Easter.

Sunday, May 11th, will be Mother's Day dedicated to the memory of the mothers of America and special services will be planned throughout the churches of the land. The honor of the origination of Mother's Day belongs to Miss Anna Jarvis, of Philadelphia. Her mother died on May 9, 1906, and on Sunday, May 9, 1907, she invited a friend to join her in remembering the anniversary of her mother's death, and before the next anniversary she had interested many individuals and organizations in the observance of Mother's Day the second Sunday in May.

As a result of her efforts Philadelphia observed the day May 10, 1908. She then became the missionary of the idea and wrote thousands of letters to influential men in all walks of life with whom she pleaded for the general adoption of the idea and state after state has adopted its observance.

CHURCH FORUM

"and problems in question form. Answers will appear in...

Which is the most successful, the denominational, or the interdenominational, or community vacation school? Answer: This depends entirely upon local circumstances. If the churches of a community are widely distributed, but it may need to conduct a school; it close together they may be co-operative. It depends upon the equipment and local conditions. One difficulty which a community school faces is the question of the curriculum. There should be just as careful work back of a course of study for the Vacation School as for the Sunday session. The curriculum of the Vacation School should be considered a definite part of the educational program of the church and the courses studied there should be source.

Should not a graded and standardized series of program materials be prepared for the Vacation Church School to correspond with the graded lessons of the Sunday school?

Answer: A commission appointed by the International Lesson Committee is making an attempt to develop a graded curriculum which will take into account Sunday, Week-day and Vacation school work. This, however, will require some time. In the meantime it is necessary to follow Vacation Church School programs which supplement in the best possible way the work of the Sunday school. The graded lessons have such extensive possibilities that it is not difficult to supplement the work of the Sunday school without duplication.

Recommendations of Hotels, Hospitals, Railroads Companies and other public institutions are a guarantee to the public that the safest, quickest and most economical way of ridding the pesky insects is by the use of P. where he was directed to build. Predicted Tidal Wave. As soon as he could settle his affairs as the Connecticut and Rhode Island State agent for an insurance company he started West with his wife. He had resigned a position which brought an income of $8,000 a year and was constantly growing more remunerative, among his associates, who could not comprehend such action by a man of 27 who was progressing so fast. Stilwell started to carry out his spiritual direction by construct- ing a road from Kansas City to the Gulf of Mexico. He originally planned to have the Gulf terminal at Galveston, but a Brownie guide warned him that Galveston was to be devastated by a storm, so he swung his project route away from that city to another point not

Not until a few years ago did the "Brownies" give him ad- vices to spiritual guidance. He explained that he had not done so before because of the entreaties of his business associates. His revelations attracted the attention of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, who proclaimed that Stilwell had un- dergone the greatest psychical ex- periences of any man living.

DINNER STORIES

"Tommy," said a young woman visitor at his home, "why not come to our Sunday school? Several of Tommy hesitated a moment. Then suddenly: "Does a red-head-ed kid by the name of Jimmy Brown go to your school?" "Yes, indeed," replied the new teacher. "Well, then," replied Tommy, with an air of interest, "I'll be there next Sunday, you bet, I've been looking for that kid for three weeks, and never knew where to find him."

"You naughty, cruel boy!" said the very fashionably dressed young woman, who was taking a stroll in the park, to the urchin whom she found despoiling a bird's nest. "How can you be so heartless as to take those eggs? Think of the poor mother bird when she comes back and—" "That's all right, miss," inter-rupted the boy; "the mother bird is dead."

The young woman's expression reflected disbelief. "How do you know?" she asked sharply. "Cos I sees 'er on your hat," was the reply.

Leonard Bacon, who was one of the best-known theologians in New England a half century ago, as attending a conference and some assertions he made in his address were vehemently objected to by a member of the opposition. "Why," he expostulated, "I never heard of such a thing in all my life!" "Mr. Moderator," rejoined Bacon calmly, "I cannot allow my oppo-nent's ignorance, however vast, to offset my knowledge, however small."

"What is the parliamentary phrase when you wish to call for a vote?" The answer was given with proud certainty: "Are you ready for the ques-tion?" "Yes, dearest," the girl confess-ed shyly. "Go ahead."

POEMS THAT LIVE

SPRING
From "In Memoriam"
Now fades the last long streak of snow,
Now burgeons every maze of quick
About the flowering squares,
And thick,
By ashen roots the violets grow.

Now rings the woodland loud and long,
The distance takes a livelier hue,
And drowned in yonder living blue
The lark becomes a sightless song.

Now dance the lights on lawn and lea,
The flocks are whiter down the vale,
And milkier every milky sail,
On winding stream or distant sea;

Where now the seamen pines, or dives
In yonder greening gleam, and fly
The happy birds that change their sky
To build and brood, that live their lives

From land to land, and in my breast
Spring wakens too, and my re-gret
Becomes an April violet,
And buds and blossoms like the rest.

—Alfred Tennyson.

TRELS PLEASE

ON, May 2.—Last
Jorgan Dirlam Post ed their third annual Minstrel show to a packed house. From the opening chorus, directed by Walter Cole, to the very last act the show was bright, peppy and extremely interesting.

The first act presented Col. J.
C. MacDermott as the King Bee.
The workers were Powell, Lee,
Owen, Gannett, Rowland, Murray, Daugherty, Johnson, Willard and White. The drones, Sully West, Frosty Evans, Boob Sut-lin, Rinnie Curlice, Noisy Page and Cruise Fisher. Solos by Lee and Powell, Page, Murray, Ralph Rowland, Cruise Fisher, Albert

Daugherty were all roundly applauded. The harmony boys, Powell, Johnson, Gannett, and Mac-Dermott made a devoted hit. John ny Kilbane, ex-champion featherweight of the world gave a splendid talk on physical preparedness.
Plans and West and the Queen of Fashion put on a sketch "On the Dock" which was funny from beginning to end.

"The Making of a Soldier" showing a squad of recruits learning the manual of arms was interesting to all.

The Street Fakers, Suthill and Grissinger, could have sold a lot of Prairie Flower, good for all aches and pains. This act was excellent.

The last act "Three O'clock in the Morning" with Bill Fisher (Cruise Fisher) a vagabond, Henry Graham (Noisy Page) a boothlegger, Mrs. Graham (Frosty

Evans) Mr. A. Tourney Atlaw
(Rinnie Curtis) a Judge, Jimmie
Jones, (Boob Suthill) a detective, Bud Johnson (Stuffy West) the officer, was funny from start to finish.

The curtain dropped after a chorus by all ensembled, on one of the finest Minstrel shows the Legion has ever produced.

The music was directed by Walter Cole. Rowlands orchestra with Miss Jeanne Williams at the piano was in the pit.

COVERED WAGON" BASED ON ROMANCE OF OREGON TRAIL

A motion picture based on important historical events in the setting of the West, interwoven with a love story of the younger pioneers opened at the Rialto Theatre last night to a capacity house in "The Covered Wagon," the movie epic made from the late Emerson Hough's novel of the same title. The demands for the two shows on Friday and Saturday were so heavy that this famous film will be kept over for afternoon and evening performance on Sunday.

The subject recalls some of the most romantic events in American history, particularly the progress of the prairie schooners from Missouri river points westward to the occupying of Oregon and other regions on the extreme frontier back in 1843. Their path was the rugged, uncharted and as yet almost unknown Oregon Trail, 2,000 miles of it, stretching away to the northwest through eastern Kansas, across Nebraska, Wyoming, the northern edge of Utah and Idaho, and the southern corner of Washington and Oregon. Two previous covered wagon expeditions had tried it, but had come to untimely deaths.

"The Covered Wagon," book and play, deal with the real conquest of the trail by the great prairie schooner trek of American history, an incursion into unknown lands fully comparable to the Aryan migrations into Europe or the Goth and Saxon conquests of the western half of the wide Roman realm.

It was the custom to start at a number of Missouri river points and converge at Grand Island, where after crossing the Platte, the united caravan journeyed northwestward. Some started from Council Bluffs Others from St. Joseph, but the particular band with which the story deals outfitted at Westport Landing (now Kansas City), made its way to the site of the present Leavenworth, and proceeded through the beautifully fertile valleys and timber ranges of eastern Kansas and southeastern Nebraska to the

LANDIS BEFORE THE SENATE PROBERS

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Kenesaw Mountain Landis, high commissioner of baseball, appeared today as a "star" witness at the Wheeler-Brookhart investigation of the department of justice.

Landis was called in connection with charges that Phillip Grossman, a Chicago bootlegger, used political influence to escape serving a year's sentence imposed by Landis in 1921, when he was a federal judge in Chicago.

Landis explained he had given Grossman a year's sentence on a contempt charge when it was proved that he continued to sell whiskey after an injunction was issued against his saloon.

"There were seven thousand of these cases in Chicago in the good old days," Landis added. "In the Grossman case, my records showed there were six different purchases of liquor in his saloon by as many prohibited agents. There were six witnesses against Grossman and the case was not based on the testimony of any one man.

Landis lighted up a long thin "stogie" and puffed away contentedly as he told of the detailed testimony against Grossman.

"It certainly contains my views," said Landis. "When this pardon was granted, newspapermen commented on a conference at the White House, attended by Fred Upham, a personal friend of mine for 20 years.

"I made a speech about that time saying it was grave misfortune that these politicians were active in this case on the threshold of a campaign to select convention delegates in Illinois. I maintain that these political leaders should not try to influence the chief executive to act contrary to the weight of the testimony. They do the same thing all the time with judges. I would be suspicious of any application for a pardon if it was endorsed by these political leaders."

"Were the prohibition violations widespread in Chicago?"

"Yes, just like it is in all large cities," said Landis.

Landis referred to "drinking" at dinner parties in high society. He admitted he "took one" every now and then.

U. S. AVIATOR STILL MISSING

CORDOVA, Alaska, May 2.—The U. S. Navy today is still missing its flag plane Seattle, of the United States army round the world flight, was still missing today.

Despite the fact that the coast guard cutters Algonquin, Pioneer and Haida and all available canny boats have been searching for 24 hours they have found no trace of the missing aviator.

The Algonquin is sending small boats along the shore and into small bays that larger vessels cannot enter in order that no nook along the Alaskan peninsula from Chignik to Shumagin Islands may remain unexplored.

Lieut. Bissel, advance officer of the flight is directing the search from on board the Haida which has been stationed at Dutch Harbor.

The weather remains unchanged. Cold winds are blowing carrying snow from the mountain tops.

The local store has one of the factory demonstrators here and report many of these new and improved stoves sold. "The Red Star Stove differs in many ways from the regular oil stove," said Mr. A. M. ### Came Home to Die

"Three years ago I came home thinking 2 or 3 weeks would be my limit to live. I had suffered for 15 years from colic attacks and severe liver and stomach trouble. I happened to see an advertisement of May's Wonderful Remedy and purchased a bottle at the drug store and after taking the first dose I felt better than I had for 15 years. I am now in the best of health—thanks to May's Wonderful Remedy." It removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded at all druggists.—Advertisement.

The Lowe Bros. paint demonstration at the store will also be concluded tomorrow and a painting expert from the factory is conducting this event. The Elvira Hardware Company have been dealers for Lowe Bros. Paint for many years and every year hold the features of the event is the instructive information that can be secured by attending and also the special prices that prevail during the paint demonstration.

OBERLIN CLEAN-UP TO START MAY 6TH

OBERLIN, May 2.—Impetus given to the Oberlin clean-up yesterday by the proclamation of Mayor Smith, asking that Oberlin citizens prepare especially the Mock convention and commencement exercises soon to be held here, by "digging deep" for it.

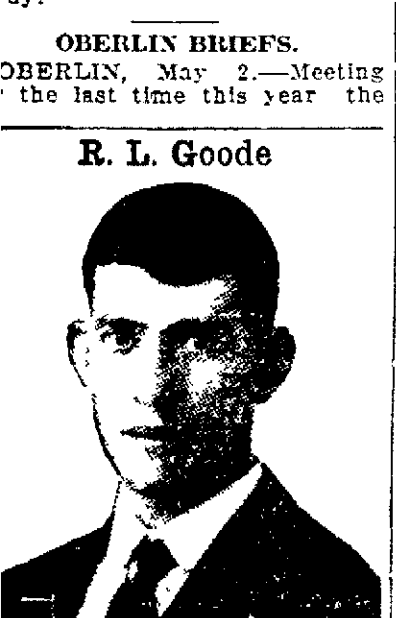

All through the long winter we apt to become reckless and allow debris to collect, and more so during the entire year. Improvements and repairs are made, a brinks more or less litter and trash, useless things accumulate about all go to make a mess of it.

Let's do something more than rake the surface, dig your basement, into your attic as well as your back yards and her together whatever ought to be thrown out; place all into barrels, boxes or bags and do not leave on the curb unless in connection with the college commencement in June. Let Oberlin diggers go away impressed by Oberlin's cleanliness, as well as beauty.

The date is May 6th. The Mock will make but one trip to the east side of town first. Be ready!

Dinner Stories

A London lawyer had a woman relative in Scotland from whom he had "expectations." One had been ailing for some weeks, when one morning came a telegram asking the lawyer's wife to go at once, as she (his aunt) was much worse. His wife accordingly went.

During the evening of the following day the husband received this announcement:

"Aunt Matilda went to heaven at 3:30, returning by 11:50 to-morrow morning."

"John, you really ought not to eat that lobster salad," said Mary, warningly.

"Now, look here, Mary, I've had a hard morning," retorted John. "And when I want to have a little bustle as a reward for my labors you begin to lecture me."

"Well, it's for your own good. You know the doctor said you must not take anything that doesn't agree with you."

"Yes, and if I followed that rule, I'd like to know where you'd be," said John.

BILLY WHISKERS

By FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

Billy and the Billy Goat Regiment were on the ocean speeding toward France. It was a night of a submarine or hear the shots from the armed vessels that were escorting them.

One day in particular stood out in Billy's mind, and that was the day a submarine sneaked up so close that when our boats shot at it, the shot missed the deck of the vessel. Billy was on. It was so close that it sent up a spray in the air and when it came down it drenched everything and everybody on deck.

"Gee I wish I was on shore! I can't say I enjoy this kind of warfare. I'll take my chances on land any day, but no water for me! The walking is not good, and only a fish could reach shore, the distance we are from land. And there are two other things I don't care to do. One is that if we are shot and blown up, I shall come down in hash and it won't be good hash, either — there will be too many hairs in it. And the other is I don't think I should enjoy being swallowed alive by a big sea monster or nibbled at by the little ones, who might take a bite out of me here and there if I was too large to swallow whole. Yes, I certainly wish I had stayed at home with Jamie and not gone to war. As for Jamie, dear, sweet little wife, she will cry her eyes dim until my return. I do hope the old crew I sent to her with a message, telling her where I was going won't forget to sneak out of camp some night and go home and tell her I was going to war, and for her to stay with our children and grandchildren until I came back, so she would not get so lonesome. But who would ever have thought that a whole regiment of soldiers could break camp and slip off so quickly and in a night? I am sure I never did. And when we started, I thought they were only practicing a night attack on an enemy. I never dreamt they were going on shipboard!

"Well, I am here and must make the best of it. I guess I can stand it like a man if these fine fellows can look cheerful and keep up their courage when they are leaving home, family, friends and sweethearts behind. There is one thing I am going to like about it anyway, and that is the excitement, with something doing every minute. I certainly intend to get a big sea monster or nibbled at by the little ones, who might take a bite out of me here and there if I was too large to swallow whole. screen favorite in "A Boy of Flanders." Jackie is seen once more in his rags and tatters, and the winning way in which he conducts himself appeals to the audience, and is one of the secrets of his success. Also a good comedy and an extra picture.

Many women in London, it is said, have taken to the habit of pawning their jewels and other precious possessions when they are going on a trip. Not wishing to leave them in an empty house, they leave them in a pawnshop where they are assured of excellent care, especially the valuable furs.

It is useless hoping for the best unless you are also working for it.

I guess I can stand it like a man if these fine fellows can look cheerful and keep up their courage when they are leaving home, family, friends and sweethearts behind. There is one thing I am going to like about it anyway, and that is the excitement, with something doing every minute. I certainly intend to get a big sea monster or nibbled at by the little ones, who might take a bite out of me here and there if I was too large to swallow whole. Yes, I certainly wish I had stayed at home with Jamie and not gone to war. As for Jamie, dear, sweet little wife, she will cry her eyes dim until my return. I do hope the old crew I sent to her with a message, telling her where I was going won't forget to sneak out of camp some night and go home and tell her I was going to war, and for her to stay with our children and grandchildren until I came back, so she would not get so lonesome. But who would ever have thought that a whole regiment of soldiers could break camp and slip off so quickly and in a night? I am sure I never did. And when we started, I thought they were only practicing a night attack on an enemy. I never dreamt they were going on shipboard!

News With Especial Interest to Farmers

FARM COSTS

SAME AS IN 1923

and Machinery Higher Fuel and Feed Lower. Cost just about as much to run Ohio farm this year as it was last year. While fuel and prices have dropped, labor and machinery prices have made up the difference. The statement is in figures just compiled by rural economists at the Ohio State University on prices of the things a farmer needs to run his farm.

The index figure on Ohio farm costs for March, 1924, is 100; that for March a year ago, 100. Interpreted, this means the Ohio farmer's expenses this year and in 1923 are identical—64 per cent less than in the pre-war years. The index figures for labor went from 125 in 1913 to 155 this year; machinery, 135 to 175; feed, from 120 to 175; taxes, from 215 to 211; fuel, from 141 to 125; building, from 158 to 181; clothing, 196 to 200; furniture, from 141 to 176; groceries, from 141 to 176; fuel, from 218 to 169; miscellaneous, from 156 to 151. The economists derived these comparative index figures from data kept the past two or more years on 648 farms to these 11 representative counties: Allen, Adams, Columbiana, Geauga, Cuyahoga, Huron, Montgomery, Sandusky, Stark and Union.

WE DON'T EAT

WHAT GRANDPA DID

asserts Economist in Attacking Traditional Belief. "I don't eat what our grandfathers did 30 years ago," said J. E. Schlat-ter, Fulton county, head of the rural economics department at the Ohio State University, says this in reply to the traditional belief that the demand for farm products is inelastic, that habits of consumption do not change. The consumption of fruit in the United States during the past decades," continues Prof. Fal-ter, "indicates that this tradi-tional belief is fallacious. A re-cent study in a nearby city show-ing other things that the American in one year con-sumes about 98 pounds of apples, 26 pounds of bananas, 26 pounds of oranges, and 11 pounds of fruit. While complete statistics are available, apparently the per-centage of consumption of apples has

BY FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

Billy and the Billy Goat Regiment were on the ocean speeding. There was seldom a time of day or night that they did not see the periscope of a submarine or hear the shots from the armed vessels that were escorting them.

One day in particular stood out in Billy's mind, and that was the day a submarine sneaked up so close that when our boats shot at it, the shot missed the deck of the vessel Billy was on. It was so close that it sent up a spray in the air and when it came down it drenched everything and everybody on deck.

"Gee I wish I was on shore! I can't say I enjoy this kind of warfare. I'll take my chances on land any day, but no water for me! The walking is not good, and only a fish could reach shore, the distance we are from land. And there are two other things I don't care to think about. One is that if we are shot down in hash and it won't be good hash, either, there will be too many hairs in it. And the other is I don't think I should enjoy being swallowed alive by a big sea monster or nibbled at by the little ones, who might take a bite out of me here and there if I was too large to swallow whole. Yes, I certainly wish I had stayed at home with Jamie and not gone to war. As for Nannie, my dear, sweet little wife, she will cry her eyes dim until my return. I do hope the old fellow sent her with a message, telling her where I was going and to forget to deliver it! I certainly intended to sneak out of camp some night and go home and tell her I was going to war, and for her to go and stay with our children and grandchildren until I came back, so she would not get so lonesome. But who would ever have thought that a whole regiment of soldiers could break camp and slip off so quickly!

UNITED PRESBYTERIAN NOTES OF INTEREST

The Bible School Cabinet of the United Presbyterian church met in regular monthly session at the church Wednesday evening. Supper was served at 6:30. There was a good attendance, an excellent spirit and a fine business session.

Two of the things of special importance in the life of the school just now are the combining of the Bible School service, which begins at 9:45 a. m., with the morning public worship at 10:45, and the formation of a new Adult Bible Class.

The former has been contemplated for some time and will be inaugurated next Sabbath morning. It is hoped that by this plan a larger number of the children and young people of the Bible school will be led to remain for the morning worship.

The new Adult Bible Class will be composed of both men and women and will be taught by the pastor. The first call is for fifty members. All men and women in the church and others not now connected with any Bible School are cordially invited to join. The object is Bible study for personal, spiritual good. The first session of the class will be held next Sabbath morning at 9:45.

It is hoped that by the addition of the new Adult Class and the impetus thus given to the work of the school in general, the enrollment will reach 200 and the attendance at least 150 by Children's day, June 5th.

The bride was given away by her father, J. B. Fletcher, and was attended by Mrs. Ben Mosley as maid of honor. Lawrence McClure served the room as best man.

KIWANISANS HEAR EDUCATIONAL DIRECTOR

Under a program in charge of Vic Breitenstein, John E. Warner, Educational Director of the Shelton schools for the Northern District, spoke to the Kwanian Club yesterday on "Why Some Men Succeed and Others Fail."

Starting out with the statement that all men contain the same number of success faculties at birth, he illustrated how different men achieve varying degrees of success, depending on the progressive development of these faculties.

According to the speaker, the greatest power today is man-power, without which money-power and equipment power would be values. To develop man-power, we must build men from within.

He said "Man-power is composed of an equal part of intellectual power, emotional power, physical and volitional power, of which the first three are static powers and useless without the will to do."

He stated that there are three essentials that go to make up a man—quantity of service, quality of service and mode of conduct. A defect in any one may mean failure instead of success.

With the statement that "No winner ever quits and no quitter ever wins," the speaker brought out by illustrations the essential qualities of faith, loyalty, justice, earnestness and sincerity necessary to success. The chief volitional power is decision, which is based on sound judgment, many failures being the result of indecision.

Stating that "The one great principle of service is the principle for which all men should strive," he showed how profits in dollars and cents would increase in proportion to the service rendered.

Contributions are still coming in for the swimming pool, among the latest being $150 from the various Masonic bodies, the total now being over $10,000. Bud Andrus, chairman of the Engineering committee, reported that at a meeting with the Park board, a site had been selected for the pool. The location is directly north from third base, in a level stretch between the river and the hill on the west, which will serve as a vantage point for spectators.

Detailed plans are now being prepared by Geo. B. Gascoigne, Consulting Sanitary Engineer of Cleveland, and will be submitted to the Engineering committee next week.

Carl Taylor and Tim Terrell were welcomed into the club as new members in a hearty manner by Stuart Lucas. Art Smith, who has just returned from the west coast, gave some of his impressions of Seattle, which is running a race with St. Paul for the Kiwanis International convention in 1925. The club instructed its delegates to support St. Paul.

Bob Rice, secretary of the local club, announced that he would be absent on a five weeks' vacation.
